

PACIFIC WILDLIFE CARE INVITES YOU TO BE A PART OF THESE UPCOMING FAMILY-ORIENTED EVENTS:

Youth Art Challenge

All students K-12 are invited to enter their original artwork or photography of an animal that lives in SLO County in its native habitat. Some ideas include: Gull, Grebe, Pelican, Songbird, Mountain Lion, Bear, Deer, Snake, Elephant Seal, Fox, Coyote, Opossum, Raccoon, Squirrel, Owl, Heron, Red-legged Frog, Hawk, Condor, Eagle.

Entries should be on an 8 ½ x 11" sheet of paper. Participant's name, age, and contact information should be written on the back.

Mail entries no later than May 7, 2018 directly to:
Pacific Wildlife Care
P.O. Box 1134
Morro Bay, CA 93443-1134.

All entries will be displayed at the Central Coast Wildlife Festival on Saturday, May 12th at SLO Mission Plaza. All submitted artwork or photography becomes the sole possession of Pacific Wildlife Care. By entering, it will be assumed that PWC has permission to use artwork for promotion of PWC efforts and retains reproduction rights.

Central Coast Wildlife Festival

Saturday, May 12 at 11:00 am - 4:00 pm
Mission Plaza, San Luis Obispo

Come Discover the Wild Where We Live with Pacific Wildlife Care at our 2018 Central Coast Wildlife Festival. This free, family-friendly wildlife educational faire will have exhibits, displays and interactive activities for all ages that aim to promote awareness and inspire responsible stewardship and coexistence with the native wildlife that live on the Central Coast and will feature:

- Native wildlife ambassadors
- Puppet shows/skit
- Wildlife film
- Arts and Crafts
- Displays and activities with our 25+ partner eco-organizations

This year's theme is focused on the many wildlife treasures found right in our backyards. This is a wildlife event, no dog's please! Food will be available for purchase. We'll have Bliss Cafe, Grilled Cheese Incident, Jamba Juice and SLO Roasted Coffee on the premises. Go to pacificwildlifecare.org/wildlife-festival for a full listing of the latest partners and sponsors.

2019 SLO International Film Festival (SLOIFF) - Youth Filmmakers of Tomorrow

Did you know that Pacific Wildlife Care is co-sponsoring a new youth film award, The Wild World We Love, for an original short, or animated film? Film submissions are due by the first week in January 2019. The film festival commences in mid-March. We'd love for an individual, group or classroom to be a part of it next year!
